

Hello, my friends! I have three new activities for you. They are still optional, which means you don't have to do them, but I hope you check them out and have fun. Looking at all of these books and activities makes me wish we could be together, so I could share them all with you. I am always thinking about different books and what you all would like to read. If you need help picking out a new book, you can email me anytime at GDamanti@sjvs.net. I miss you all so very much! Happy reading! —Mrs. Damanti

Many of you enjoy reading The Magic Treehouse books by Mary Pope Osborne. Using the link below you can go on adventures with Jack and Annie. Some activities require Mom or Dad to make a password for you, but if you just keep saying no to creating a password, you can still play some games too.
